New York Stock Market

New York, November 24.—With no new influences of importance to affect the course of the securities market, quotations followed no well defined trend to-day. The opening was hesitating and irregular. For a time prices rose with some show of vigor. Before the day was for advanced the list wavered and then began to fall back. During the remainder of the session the tone was heavy.

Union Pacific and United States Steel rose to the highest prices of the present movement during the early rise, but at the close stood a point or so below yesterday's final quotations.

or so below yesterday's final quotations.

Buying was vigorous early in the day, and a number of Southern and Western railroad stocks, as well as some of the industrials, rose from 1 to 2 points. The recession was due in part to profit-taking sales.

Expectations of a poor showing in the morrow's bank statement to the growth of the bearish sentiment. Largely on account of the export novement of gold, it is expected that the banks will report a considerable loss in cash. The money market show-ed no reflection of this condition, and rates held steady.

Bonds were active and irregular. Some of the low-priced speculative is sues moved widely. Total sales, parvalue, $5.056,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Total sales for the day $65,900.

tal sales for the day 605,900

Weekly Cotton Review.

New York, November 21.—Cotton has aiternately declined and advanced on a steady absorption by spot interests, spinners and shorts. Bombay will, it is said, take 16. 20.000 bales this year, the largest total ever known. The year trade is improving. Series in the property of the p

We Told a Man

A few weeks ago if he would drop in to see us a little oftener he would find himself doing business with this Company!

The perdiction came true quicker than we expected!

His name is now on our books, with a substantial balance against it. In short, he made up his mind that this would be a good place to keep a reserve account, which he understands, of course, is subject to check and draws interest on daily balance.

And we want others! How about yourself?
